

Die Another Day

© copyright M.T. Decker 2010

You say that this is the end,
You tell me that I've lost.
Feel the second hand ticking away
Until we hit free fall,
You never know where you'll land.
Even on my knees
I'll stand my ground
Find a way, to turn this around
Find a way to live
to die another day.
You think you've won the game
You think you hold all the cards but I know the winning hand is what you make it Don't know how the cards will fall
Until the hand is played
Even in the eyes of defeat
I will smile
Find a way
to turn things around,
Find a way and live...
live to die... I'll die another day.

If this is the end
Don't tell me that I've lost
And if I've won,
Please don't tell me about the cost.
From here it's so hard to tell
It all just looks the same.
Too high a price to pay
Just to live
live to die but die another day.

You think that this is the end
I say this is the beginning and if you're right, if hope is dead,
Even in the eyes of defeat
I will smile and say
I will find a way
Just to live
live to die. I'll die another day

Even on my knees
I will stand my ground
Find a way to win
Just to live
just to fight
... I'll die another day.